694.1 — PLAN

It is the intent of Bridgerland Applied Technology College (BATC) to see that the students attending classes at the College have limited medical coverage in case of school-related accidents. BATC administers a self-insurance plan, which provides limited coverage for students who have completed registration procedures with the Student Services Office.

This coverage is designed to provide a limited accident insurance supplemental benefit for school-related accidents that supplements the student's own medical insurance coverage. In cases where the student or student's family does not have coverage, this plan will cover reasonable medical expenses up to $1,000 per incident. If the student is already covered by another plan, the BATC plan will cover the amount of disallowed charges and/or the deductible from the student's other coverage up to $1,000 per incident.
